The Branch goals and objectives were reviewed and endorsed.

Progress of the Outcomes set at the Branch Council Workshop – September 2007

Ports Vision / Goals / Objectives	Strategies
<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Federal Government proposal to take over ports nationally. – Change in federal government appears to have put this proposal on the back burner. The recent review and restructure of Queensland ports and the state governments intention to sell the Port of Brisbane immediately (with the others to follow one would think) means the feds would have little chance of resurrecting the proposal. 2. Potential to rationalise all current post awards (downwards. - This has essentially been the outcome of the Port Modern Award where all industries have been subjected to a lowest common denominator model. 3. Potential to switch current employment relationships i.e. (a) Centralise administration (b) farm out other functions to contractors and service providers. - With the future sale of the ports an almost certainty the dismantling of in house services will occur at a pace. Our protection of employees rights and award entitlements under framework agreements will provide some security for limited periods but the ability for employees to replace these initial agreements with new in the longer term will be contested by the new owners. A strong membership density in all areas is required to be maintained if we are to bargain successfully in the future. 4. Flow on effect to other industries ie: Rail and Transport. - The flow on effect to Rail and Transport has been clearly demonstrated with the decision to sell off QR so we got that one right. The reality is that both sides of the political spectrum appear to think they can dispose of public assets at their whim. The public campaigns and threats to vote parties out don't appear to be a deterrent unless we can demonstrate that it will really happen and unions will be prepared to bring a labor government down. 	Should we attempt to influence any industry side issues – YES! <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Lobby State Governments, Port Boards of Management and directors that most state owned Port facilities work efficiently and it is the infrastructure of Rail and transport to the ports which generally fail to handle or cope with the increase in demand and volume. - Again we were spot on but events have overtaken us. 2. Commence a dialogue with QSU members in Rail and Transport to look at problems between Ports and Rail and identify where opportunities lay to construct solutions and find ways of operating practices that could be advanced to government/management to achieve mutual advantageous outcomes in EBA negotiations Resources required <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Knowledge of the big picture issues in the related industries that will enable the parties to achieve symbiotic relationship. • Establishment of trust and mutual respect that 5th unions can offer contributions to the industry that will result in the business / employees benefiting equally. • Research facilities from national office to support submissions that can be used in proposals / negotiations with the companies / other industry divisions. • A dedicated Industrial Officer supplied by National Office / Branch, to assist in the higher level negotiations between various companies / ASI, WSU, Industry Divisions / Branches. - The QCU rail unions campaign in rail against the sell off of public assets is already underway and we are supporting that financially. At the same time there is a need to examine what if any changes can be proposed to government that will provide better operating outcomes within the rail system that will demonstrate that savings can be achieved using methods other than selling off chunks of the corporate structures piece meal.

Local Government Vision / Goals / Objectives	Strategies
1. Develop membership density and awareness to achieve a successful new council. – Ongoing. The Branch throughout 2008/2009 amalgamation year to raise our industry profile and we did utilize many of the communication strategies noted to try and simplify a very complicated message. This has resulted in significant growth of members in particular for SEQ Councils. The development of membership density is always an ongoing objective and this has now moved into delegate development which was supported in 2008/2009 by a delegates' conference which focused on the role of a delegate in a workplace and the need to get back to basics. 2. EBA Campaign (very important) – Completed in majority of industries throughout 2008/2009. The Branch completed within the allocated timeframe an amalgamation campaign to deliver new EBAs for those Councils which were amalgamated delivering the 'best of' as our campaign which achieved great outcomes both industrially and for the growth and strength of our union. LTCs were a clear strategy that was used during this time for negotiations, communication and to include members and delegates in the process to achieve our outcomes. 3. Need to know that the campaign will deliver – the best of from all EBs <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - 3 year salary maintenance - 3 years no forced relocations - Completed for this round of bargaining. For those amalgamated Councils there was a very high support for the majority of the new Council EBAs across the industry. Not all new EBAs delivered 3 year salary maintenance, and 3 year no forced relocations – it	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ▪ Raise industry profile and involvement ▪ Communication with members ▪ Improve and personalise contact – email trees etc. ▪ Communication with non members –more delegates ▪ Map workplace effectively ▪ Identify audience and speak to them ▪ More discussions with non members ▪ Use appropriate language not union speak ▪ Each delegate to find one more delegate. These delegates to talk to five people. ▪ Membership strength / density = power ▪ Activate current members (through communication) ▪ Email members about the LTC ▪ If LTC does not agree with three major goals we have opportunity to lobby for members to come on board. ▪ Create interest and streamline communication. ▪ All newsletters need to be in dot points. ▪ Simple tools ▪ Slogan ▪ Shame councils that don't take on 3 principles. ▪ Where you have an amalgamated council, community must be created to achieve equality. ▪ Everyone to have ownership of new EB. ▪ Identify common ground ▪ Identify what's important ▪ Put together model agreement ▪ Logo and pictures ▪ Simple communication ▪ Less is more!

Paid Parental Leave (Let's celebrate the unions success)

This year the QSU/ASU submitted a submission to productivity commission on PPL along with many other unions. These submissions were also followed up by a campaign that included morning teas for mothers and lobbying of Federal Members of Parliament and Queensland Senators. It was great to see the Federal Government hand down the plan in this year's budget for the first PPL scheme for Australian worker. The campaign for PPL is not over yet, the productivity commission made some further recommendations which the QSU/ASU needs to continue to fight to have implemented through Enterprise Bargaining. One of these recommendations is that any exiting PPL scheme's that are in current Agreements should be retained and run in conjunction with the Government PPL scheme when it comes into place next year. This recommendation was based on data that shows that babies thrive if they are at home with either parent for the first 6 months of their lives. The Productivity Commission was hoping that with many large employers already allowing employee to take between 6 – 12 weeks PPL that the Government's 18 weeks scheme would let parents be able to stay with their babies for up to 6 months. Other areas that need to be pursued are employer super contributions whilst on the Government PPL and employer to top up to fill income replacement wages over the 18 weeks. It is imperative the union continues to campaign on improving PPL for our members across Queensland.

Pay Equity Decision (Another Celebration)

The QSU was successful in the QIRC for a determination under the Equal Remuneration Principles for employees that work in Social and Community Assistance (SACs) services. There were increases of between 18% and 30% and these will be phased in over a 3 year period. This was such a great achievement for our branch.

2010 Year of Women in Local Government

2010 is the year of Women in Local Government the union has some flyers and post cards for distribution. If you know someone who would make a great ambassador for Women in Local Government, someone who actively promotes the advancement of Women in Local Government then you can nominate them for the 2010 Year of Women in Local Government Ambassadors.(to nominate a person send details to national@lqma.org.au before the 31 August 2009.

Queensland Working Women's Service

Last month I attended the planning day for QWWS and YWAS, these days are always very productive and interactive days. Part of this years planning is to investigate the availability of other sources of funding though grants and projects. The QWWS AGM will be held on the 9th October 2009 at the DVRC.

NWCC AND ACTU Women's Committee

There have been several phone conferences over the past 12 months all very informative. The union has also been receiving updates from the Women's ACTU Committee, some of the activities that the ACTU are currently working on are the Women in Unions Survey, and this survey will be distributed to unions via the ACTU contact centre. There was information on the Government's Carer's Inquiry Report including recommendations of significance: "In particular, the government should carefully consider any recommendation that the national Employment Standards be amended to extend the right to request flexible working arrangements for employees caring for a child with a disability and carers of adults in need of care." The ACTU Women's committee is also lobbying the office for Women to have the requirements for applicants to assess funding for the advancement of women's issues broadened. The committee would like to see funding used to promote women's issues through: Training for women's delegates; Production of a bargaining kit for women delegates; materials designed to inform political and other leaders of women worker's issues and alliance building.

QCU Women's Committee

The QCU Women's Committee will be holding the Emma Miller Awards night in October this year, a date is yet to be confirmed. This year the QCU will be trailing a slightly different format, the awards night we start with theater style seating whilst presenting to the nominees, followed by cocktails and music. The QCU Women's Committee is also developing a log of key issues regarding the operation of Office for Women and its policy objectives. The union has received a copy of the Office for Women Strategic Direction for 2009 – 2010. Highlights include a review of the role and function of the Office for Women, Building a stronger, more strategic voice for women. The Office for Women will be focusing on four key objectives: Providing pathways for women's employment opportunities; increasing women's access to education and training; improving the conditions for women in the workforce and supporting and promoting women's participation in community life.

Youth Officers Report 2008/2009

The 2009 Youth Forum was held in February in conjunction with the ASU Delegates' Conference, for Union Delegates under 28 and other interested younger members. Fourteen ASU members from across Queensland participated.

Many young workers do not have a good understanding of their industrial rights or of the role and importance of Unions. The best people to address this are other young workers.

The Forum focussed initially on looking back at what unions have achieved in Australia and what ASU staff and activists have achieved in the last 25 years.

ASU Delegate and Amnesty International Australia Community Campaigner Michael Hayworth ran a workshop on new forms of activism and Forum participants devised tasks to increase the profile of the Union in their workplaces and to engage other young workers in our Union.

Delegates identified a number of tasks they could complete to increase Union visibility and the participation of younger workers in their workplaces, such as personalising the Union involvement in their workplaces, raising the profile of delegates, targeting other young workers to become Union members and using social networking sites to create networks across different workplaces and industries.

Part 2 - Servicing/Industrial Activities

Overview

One of the primary objectives for the union was, and remains to be, an increase in union membership. The issue of density in each of our workplaces had become even more important under the former WorkChoices legislation where it was possible for the employers to construct substandard collective agreements by coercing the employees to accept just about anything they put up. The Right of Entry provisions made it harder to obtain access to potential members in new worksites where there was resistance from employers to allow employees access to unions. In non unionized worksites they bent over backwards to keep their operations union free. However, in most existing workplaces we were able to organise around any obstructionist measures put in place by the employer and use their resistance to our advantage. The message being, "What are they afraid of? Why do they want to keep us out?"

We continued with our object to remain relevant and provide an exceptional service to members. In order to achieve this support to members we improved systems and developed procedures in the Contact Centre to more efficiently respond to and record member enquiries and to improve the manner in which advice is provided to members.

This information has been utilised, as appropriate, to identify areas and issues around which a promotional and/or recruitment campaign was developed.

Contact Centre

The Contact Centre has continued to upgrade its systems and personnel since its initial conception. This has resulted in specific training needs being identified to Industrial Officers to improve their skills when performing their roles of first point of contact with members calling in, often in a very distressed state.

Since the last report we have lost Tammy Aitken, who resigned to take up a more senior industrial officer's role with a sister rail union and her replacement who had to relinquish the position for personal reasons soon after her commencement. Fortunately we have secured the services of an experienced replacement in James Mattner, who has previous experience in a similar role. We are confident James' contribution will add to the skills pool the contact centre now boasts.

The focus of the union continues to be membership growth by establishing improved member networks and delegate structures. The primary role of the union's organisers is to come face to face with employees at the worksites, speak with existing members and recruit those not in the union. The Contact Centre being the conduit to identify issues on which the organisers can build. The Contact Centre continued to provide, in addition to direct contact with the organiser, access to union services. This encompasses a wide range of issues which go to award and agreement advice and interpretation, WorkCover, anti discrimination matters, Workplace Health and Safety, Union Law and Union Shopper referrals etc.

The plans to formally implement the review of the contact centre operations and commence the outbound calling capacity of the unit, such as to increase service provisions to members, conduct surveys and follow up resignations and bad debts, had to be delayed because of a demand on the centre's resources for other matters, although some of those functions were undertaken as a consequence of those issues.

Rail

The announcement from QR that it intended to corporatise and transform its establishment in to five separate corporate entities was successfully resisted on the agreement that it would be restricted to three, with common core provisions applying, ensured we had a very busy year in supporting the negotiating teams. Significant work was performed in juggling 20 agreements of which the ASU is signatory to 14. There was also the necessity to provide teams to explain the agreements over a series of road shows throughout the state and a continuation of the implementation of all the certified agreements within the new corporate structures after the ballots were conducted.

In addition the corporate changes have resulted in significant additional work being required to review policies, classification reviews and management of restructuring programs.

A major campaign against the privatization and sale of QR assets is underway to resist the proposals announced by the state government to divest itself of QR because of budget requirements brought about by the global economic crisis.

Energy

Significant work completed in this industry included the negotiation of workplace agreements across just about all the distribution retailers and generators through out the state. As usual there was also a requirement for a continuing review of policies, classification reviews and the management of restructuring programs resulting from the above.

Energy utilities were also identified as being considered for privatization by the state government. This appears to have been deferred for the moment but only because there is a view that they will not realise their true value in the current economic climate. A campaign to preserve these organisations as public assets will be pursued to prevent the state government disposing of them.

Local Government

The federal court case in AWU and others v. Etheridge Shire Council was determined in the Federal Court with a judgment that ESC was not a constitutional corporation under the terms of the Workplace Relations Act 1996. This decision was not appealed and continues to influence the industrial landscape with respect to what might transpire in the determination of the federal government to exclude local governments from the new Fair Work Act and Modern Awards.

In addition the Local Government Reform process resulted in boundary changes and amalgamations that reduced the total number of councils from 157 to 72.

The major exercise to determine the continuation of industrial instruments to be applied in amalgamated councils was completed with the Local Government Workforce Transition Code of Practice being adopted in to legislation and amendments to the Local Government Act and provided the protections of local government member's interests and award entitlements. A similar situation is continuing in the proposed restructure of Bulk, Distribution and Retail water boards by Local Authorities.

The attempt by Ipswich City Council to introduce a shared services model which would have resulted in the loss of our ICC member's jobs to a non local government entity was resisted and an agreement which helped to limit the proposals originally being implemented by the ICC and its partners in the scheme was negotiated and entered in to.

Other significant work completed, or still in progress, included the following:

- Submissions on amendments to the Local Government Act and Regulations
- Submissions on the restructuring of Water entities
- Reclassification disputes
- Termination negotiations and settlements
- Unfair Dismissal applications
- Dispute representation
- Wages recovery
- Workplace agreement negotiations and advice
- Local Government Appeals
- Management of restructuring programs

BCC

The BCC certified agreement was renegotiated as a roll - over but a major disagreement resulted in the choice of jurisdiction for its certification. This was eventually resolved. The new agreement is in the process of renegotiation.

Significant work completed, or in progress, included the following:

- Brisbane Water (continuing)
- Brisbane Best Value submissions
- Organisational reviews
- Reclassification disputes
- Termination negotiations and settlements
- Unfair Dismissal applications
- Dispute representation
- Wages recovery
- Workplace Agreement advice
- Management of restructuring programs

SACS

The QSU achieved a major victory in its application to the QIRC to make a new award for the SACS and CASH non constitutional corporations in Queensland. The case was conducted in two stages. Stage one was the making of the award which contained the core conditions of the federal SACS Transitional Award. Stage two, and by far the most complex in terms of contentions, witnesses and submissions, was based on a pay equity application that resulted in the QIRC find the case in our favour and handing down a decision which raised salaries up to 31% in the higher grades with lesser amounts to lower classifications. This achievement now looks as if it will provide the benchmark for similar pay equity adjustments in other states and be incorporated in to the SACS Modern award rates when that is determined later in the year. The award was achieved by a generally consensus approach being adopted between the union, employer groups and the state government who had indicated that they would fund the sector to whatever the QIRC decision handed down.

Port Authorities

Both Cairns and Mackay airports were sold to the same private operator in December of 2008. The sale process was underpinned by the framework agreement negotiated between the union, employers and the state government that ensured that employees interest and award conditions would continue and be protected over the three years following the sale going through.

A similar process to the above has followed the announcement that the review of Queensland ports would be adopted and implemented by the state government.

This sector has also been identified as one subject to privatization. The state government has announced that it will put the Port of Brisbane up for sale. While we have no membership interests in this facility that require our immediate intervention it does not auger well for our other port areas where we have significant membership. It is our intention to run similar campaigns in all ports to those planned for QR, Energy and Forrest Plantations.

Modern Awards

The making of Modern Awards in the AIRC, now FWA, is reaching its final stages with modern awards now ready for implementation as from 1 January 2010. Most of our members will not be affected by these awards due to existing industrial instruments being in force. However, the modern awards created so far are not the models we believed they should be and contain only the base rates and conditions. Much of the particular conditions applicable to a states individual application have disappeared. An example is district allowances that will only apply in the N.T. and W.A. There is no logical explanation for many of the determinations arrived at by the AIRC/FWA in this exercise and we suspect that they may have been driven by expediency to achieve the time of completion set by the government rather than exercising a considered deliberation of the impact much of these changes will have in the workplace

Part 3 - Organising Activities

Assistant Branch Secretary – Organising

The organising team has continued to work under the re-organised structure in 2008/2009 and I can report that the changes have been successful.

The team under the direction of the Assistant Branch Secretary then can be broken down into 3 divisions – Local Government, SACS and Government Own Corporations. Each team has a lead organiser and the support of a lead negotiator. The regional organisers continue to work across industries within local government and SACS.

The membership growth for the union has largely come from Local government and SACS. The GOC area overall has with some ups and down overall maintained its membership. The growth in Local Government and SACS is reflective of the great work the union carried out with amalgamations and a successful new award with pay equity in the SACS area. Outcomes we are very proud of. Within the GOC team which includes Rail, Energy and Ports we have taken hit after hit in 2008/09 with the largest industrial action in Energy the union has participated in recently, the breakup of QR and the airport sell off in ports and now the State Government proposal to sell off public assets including areas of Rail and Ports. Whilst all of these issues in the GOC areas should have resulted in a surge of membership it has not as largely beyond the current not for sale campaign largely we have done a good job and protecting employment and delivering outcomes that has not provided losses to the membership both existing and potential.

The Assistant Branch Secretary over 2008/09 has managed the organising teams and the outcomes of the branch and did so in the following ways in:

- Development and co-ordination of in house training;
- Development of training sessions and conferences delivered throughout Queensland;
- 2009 Delegates conference – which over 100 delegates attended;
- Enterprise Bargaining Agreements development of draft models, logs and clauses for all industries;
- Co-ordination and management of all organising staff – lead organisers, lead negotiator, organising administration officer and organisers;
- Negotiation of agreements;
- Ongoing negotiation and implementation of the code of practice – for Amalgamated Local Governments;
- Negotiation of the water code of practice for retail and distribution for South East Queensland
- Negotiations with Queensland and Commonwealth Government Departments – ongoing with Ministers, Director Generals and government staff.

Organising Campaigns

Enterprise Bargaining

Enterprise Bargaining has continued in all industries of the union. The union membership has continued to grow through EBA campaigns.

Local Government

Over 2008/09 the majority of EBAs were finalized with great outcomes. The campaign – was 'Make Reform Fair' it was based on members not being disadvantaged as a result of amalgamations and 'best of' should be the basis for the new industrial instruments we established at the newly formed Councils. This campaign was very successful. Now in 09 each organiser and delegates are now at implementing their agreements and working on their consultative committees and building density in their workplaces.

Water

Organising has occurred in Seqwater - Bulk. Over 08/09 in SEQ bulk water moved from Local Government to the State Government owned Statutory Authority. This affected approximately 200 white collar workers. During 08 we formalized a code of practice for transition, the employees transitioned and in 09 we have now finalized a new agreement for these workers and we are now starting to review their jobs and classification structure.

Retail and distribution – this reform has been an ongoing battle over 08/09 with negotiations occurring between the union, council or mayors and the government. For SEQ water activities of retail and distribution, the state government made a decision to again move these functions from local government to state government. Our union has been lobbying throughout 08/09 that water activities should be retained within local government. In 09 the state government announced that the water distribution and retail could remain with local government and that they would be set up as local government owned state statutory authorities. The union during 09 has been also negotiating a code of practice for employment and transition matters to deal with this very large transition which is to occur in 2010.

The union has during 08/09 continued to argue that all water and sewerage activities across Queensland needs to remain within local government and not be corporatized. Our union has drafted several submissions to this affect for consideration as part of the new local government act 2009.

Brisbane City Council

EBA negotiations for a roll over were completed in 08 achieving a 4.5% increase for 12 months with some minor changes to sick leave provisions. This roll over was again rolled over in 2009 for a period of 9 months at 4% and is going to ballot in August 09 – the BCC IDC has endorsed the agreement to the membership.

Shared Services within Local Government

The branch established a campaign in local government in 2008 - Council jobs for Council workers in response to the initiative of shared services being implemented in Local Government. In particular the Ipswich City Councils establishment of a company to provide services for customer service, rates and accounts to other Queensland Councils and possibly Australia wide.

The branch had addressed this matter in all log of claims throughout Queensland in that if shared services are to be set up in Local Government – the employees of shared services, are local government workers and wages and conditions are not to be the competing factor for efficiencies. We were successful during EBA to get this principle in across a number of councils.

The branch has also addressed this matter with the state government in consideration of the Local Government Act review which will be completed in 2008/09. These negotiations have not moved very far.

Over 2008/09 the Assistant State Secretary negotiated the Ipswich city Council EBA. The campaign focused on employment security and shared services. Members participated in industrial action in December 2008 as they believe the set up of QPG was an attack on their jobs and the removal of functions from Council to private enterprise. This action resulted in a 3 month case being conciliated by the QIRC. The union was successful in getting a better result for the local workers at ICC and potential new employees of QPG and our union in 2009 are now doing an EBA with QPG.

SACS Organising campaigns - Organising around the Branch's State Award Application in 08 which has resulted in a successful pay equity case in 09.

All Organising has been focused on our award application. Organising for 08/09 has been focused on the industrial work the union is doing and our work with QCOSS. It is essential that the branch delivers good membership growth and support from the award application and a successful new award with pay equity. The branch has held several training programs during 08/09 to assist with delegate development to support our campaigns in this industry. The union held a SACS State Award launch on the 31st July 08 – to which we had over 60 key members and stakeholders attend. The union again held a celebration evening with the success of our pay equity case in July 09 with the Minister for communities and women Hon. Karen Struthers as the guest speaker.

EBA and Organising

The branch negotiated a number of large EBAs within SACs in 2008/09. These EBAs cover the state SACS membership. They are: Mission, Life Line, Endeavour, Churches of Christ, Boystown, Bluecare and Centacare. The branch carried out organising across these large state-wide EBAs.

GOCS CAMPAIGNS

Energy

Negotiations for Energex, Ergon and Powerlink occurred in 2008/09 and were settled after lengthy industrial action at all three corporations. The branches organising focus did not change during this time or into 09 – it has been focused on getting members and new members participating in the union.

Organisers are continuing to map all energy corporations to allow for better target organising. The union is also preparing full delegate lists to identify what delegates we have and where we need new delegates.

Queensland Rail

EBA, restructuring and the carve up of QR occurred during 08/09. The EBA campaign was central to all of this change. From August 08 to April 09 organising and campaigning was focused on the new agreements for QR. Just as we finished EBA negotiations for QR, the state government announced in June 09 the sale of assets plan for Queensland including QR. The union has moved into campaign mode again in QR. We are a major player in the Qld - not for sale campaign with the QCU. We have during June 09 already been a part of the following events:

- State conference rally
- Press/media ads
- 1 month of Queensland wide community campaigning

The union has also contributed financially to a further 12 month media campaign to commence in the new financial year of 09 as co-ordinated by the QCU. The union is now with the QCU developing the further on the ground membership and community campaigning for 09/10.

Ports

During 08/09 the State Government announced the sale of airports from the Mackay and Cairns port authorities. Our union carried out organising and the industrial work to ensure no member was disadvantaged as a result of this decision. In 09 negotiations have recommenced for the Gladstone Port Authority EBA. The union again has identified ports in the Queensland - not for sale campaign as a major issue, as the state government is proposing to sell Brisbane Port. Our members who work in ports across Queensland, are concerned that if the sale occurs in Brisbane then the Government will extend these sales to other ports across Queensland which will impact upon our membership.

Seqwater

During 08/09 the state government established the bulk entity Seqwater. Negotiations are now complete at Seqwater with the agreement going out to ballot. These negotiations did not run smoothly and were very concerning to members who feel the state government and the corporation were not really entering into negotiations to ensure that employees were disadvantaged. Organisers put a lot of effort into trying to improve membership and rally the workers to act collectively, however members had endorsed the EBA to go to ballot.

Organising Works Trainees

The branch committed to 2 organising works trainees during 2008/09 – Catherine Laherty and Tim Frost. Both Catherine and Tim have already been successful in becoming full time employees in the SEQ Local Government team and are continuing to complete their traineeship and should complete this at the end of 2009.
